

Autumn 2 Newsletter

The first half term is done and we are now hurtling towards Christmas – where has the last year gone? We want to take this opportunity to thank the pupils, parents and staff at Quinton for their welcome over the last few weeks and for ensuring the transition has gone better than anyone could have hoped for. As always, if you have any concerns or questions then please do not hesitate to contact us.
Mrs Cosgrove

Hello

Hello to Jean Palmer who has joined us this week in the school office. Jean has taken over the Bursar role following the retirement of Mrs Deakin. We know the school community will welcome her as she settles in to the new routines and systems. We also look forward to welcoming Elaine Nicholls in a few weeks who will start as a Clerical Assistant. The office is a very busy place and there is much to be done within it – once again we ask for patience as the new members of the school settle.

School Uniform

Please remember that the school uniform requires children to wear black school shoes and not trainers to school. We ask that if this causes you any problems to contact the school direct.

Web Page – this is nearly ready and we hope to have this up and running within the next few weeks. We shall send you the new address when the site is ready.

Please ensure that all contact details, including mobile numbers, are correct in the office.
